  • One of the math courses must be at least MATH 151
  • Engineering, science and math courses must be completed with a grade of C or higher
Academic Standing

According to Section 12.1, Scholastic Deficiency/Probation, of the Texas A&M University Student Rules an undergraduate student is scholastically deficient when:

• A student’s semester grade point average is less than 2.00; or
• A student’s cumulative grade point average is less than 2.00; or
• The cumulative grade point average in the student’s major field of study is below a 2.00; or
• The student is not meeting college and/or major course of study grade point requirements
Q-drops

• Texas A&M students are allowed a total of four q-drops
  • Although the State of Texas allows students the ability to drop a total of six courses, Texas A&M only allows four. You may have less than four q-drops available if you have dropped courses at other institutions in Texas

• The deadline is the 60\(^{th}\) class day of the semester: November 18\(^{th}\)

• Complete a q-drop request form with your advisor

• Courses which have been q-dropped do not have a grade posted and instead show a “Q” on your transcript
Withdrawal

- All in-progress courses are dropped
- The deadline is the 60th class day of the semester: November 18th
- Complete the Official Withdrawal request online via the Howdy Portal
- Students should speak with advisor and appropriate campus resources such as residence life, financial aid, athletics, international student services, dining services, etc.
- Courses do not have a grade posted and instead show a “W” on your transcript
Curriculum Violation

Student Rule 1.5.1 states “A student is expected to register for a schedule of courses that follows the program of study for a degree in his or her college.”

Students who are not in compliance with this rule are considered Closet Majors meaning the courses for which the student is registered for are not in line with the engineering curriculum.

Closet majors have a registration hold placed on their account preventing registration for future semesters until their major is officially changed.

Advanced Placement Score Recommendations

• Only accept AP credit for courses that are pre-requisites for the next level of courses you will be taking in the fall

  (Ex. Accept MATH 151 if you plan to take MATH 152 this fall)

• Make an appointment in the fall to accept AP credit with your assigned advisor

• Once AP credit is on your transcript it cannot be removed

• Once you attempt a course at Texas A&M, you cannot accept credit by examination for the course, regardless of grade or completion of the course

• If you think you will have AP credit for a University Core Curriculum (UCC) course or ENGL 104, then pick a UCC for which you will not have credit

Please be sure to talk to an advisor before accepting your AP credit!

As new Texas A&M engineering students, we need your help!
Help us shape programs and activities we offer to you in engineering!

What? Ask you questions about your thoughts on engineering.

Why? To design programs that will help you learn how earning an engineering degree at Texas A&M can support your future aspirations.

How can I help? Complete a short 15 minute survey about engineering.

Will I do anything else? Complete four more short surveys over the next two years. We will let you know how your thoughts and experiences are helping us make improvements in the college of engineering. You can truly make a difference!
