Degree plans and course descriptions are available in the online Undergraduate Catalog.

http://catalog.tamu.edu

Purpose of Catalogs

The Undergraduate and Graduate and Professional catalogs provide information about the academic programs of Texas A&M University to students, prospective students, faculty and staff of the University. Included is information concerning admissions, academic regulations and requirements, services available to students, academic offerings and a list of the administrative officers and faculty of the University. While every effort has been made to make this catalog as complete and accurate as possible, changes may occur at any time in requirements, deadlines, fees, curricula and courses listed in these catalogs.

Students should refer to Howdy, for course offerings in any given semester. For administrative reasons, because of insufficient enrollment or because of limited resources, any given course might not be offered in the announced semester.

This catalog was prepared in advance of its effective date; therefore, the course descriptions may vary.
Use the Degree Evaluation and What-if Analysis to determine how completed courses satisfy degree requirements in your intended major.
Academic Success Center

  - It is recommended PHYS 2425 be completed by the end of the semester the ETAM application is submitted
  - If PHYS 2425 has not been completed by the end of the second semester (first ETAM application opportunity), it is recommended students submit the ETAM application at the end of the third semester (second ETAM application opportunity), when PHYS 2425 will be completed
Entry to a Major (ETAM) – Automatic Admission

• Applies to First Choice Major Only

• Available during the first opportunity application process only

Cumulative GPA: Requires a Texas A&M University and a Blinn Cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher after the first two semesters. Texas A&M does not grade replace; Students CGPA at the 2-year institution will include grades earned in any repeated coursework

Academic Standing

According to Section 12.1, Scholastic Deficiency/Probation, of the Texas A&M University Student Rules an undergraduate student is scholastically deficient when:

- A student’s grade point average is less than 2.00; or
- A student’s cumulative grade point average is less than 2.00; or
- The cumulative grade point average in the student’s major field of study is below a 2.00; or
- The student is not meeting college and/or major course of study grade point requirements
Q-drops

• Texas A&M students are allowed a total of four q-drops
  • Although the State of Texas allows students the ability to drop a total of six courses, Texas A&M only allows four. You may have less than four q-drops available if you have dropped courses at other institutions in Texas

• The deadline is the 60th class day of the semester: November 17th

• Complete a q-drop request form with your advisor

• Courses which have been q-dropped do not have a grade posted and instead show a “Q” on your transcript
Withdrawal

- All in-progress courses are dropped

- The deadline is the 60th class day of the semester: November 17th

- Complete the Official Withdrawal request online via the Howdy Portal

- Students should speak with advisor and appropriate campus resources such as residence life, financial aid, athletics, international student services, dining services, etc.

- Courses do not have a grade posted and instead show a “W” on your transcript
Curriculum Violation

Student Rule 1.5.1 states “A student is expected to register for a schedule of courses that follows the program of study for a degree in his or her college.”

Students who are not in compliance with this rule are considered Closet Majors meaning the courses for which the student is registered for are not in line with the engineering curriculum.

Closet majors have a registration hold placed on their account preventing registration for future semesters until their major is officially changed.

Advanced Placement Score Recommendations

• Only accept AP credit for courses that are pre-requisites for the next level of courses you will be taking in the fall
  (Ex. Accept MATH 151 if you plan to take MATH 152 this fall)

• Make an appointment in the fall to accept AP credit with your assigned advisor

• Once AP credit is on your transcript it cannot be removed

• Once you attempt a course at Texas A&M, you cannot accept credit by examination for the course, regardless of grade or completion of the course other than Q, W, or NG

• If you think you will have AP credit for a University Core Curriculum (UCC) course or ENGL 104, then pick a UCC for which you will not have credit

Please be sure to talk to an advisor before accepting your AP credit!
