Taipei, Taiwan - July 6 to Aug. 10, 2016

Description
Taiwan is an island nation of 23 million with a democratic political system. The culture of Taiwan is a blend of traditional Chinese, Japanese, and Taiwanese aboriginal cultures. With its population consisting of mostly ethnic Chinese, colonization by Japan over a half century, and influences of modern American and European cultures and political systems, Taiwan provides our students a unique opportunity to experience diverse Asian culture. The region is also an economic powerhouse featuring a very large number of multinational companies. Cultural visits to museums and religion and architectural landmarks in Taiwan will be arranged. National Taiwan University (NTU), one of the more prestigious universities in Taiwan and Asia, also provides many cultural activities, including summer language and culture courses, from their Office of International Affairs.

Taipei, Taiwan
Taipei is the capital of Taiwan and the economic, political, culture, and educational center in Taiwan. The courses will be taught at the National Taiwan University (NTU) campus located in Taipei. Founded in 1928 by Japanese, NTU is often considered to be one of the most prestigious universities in Taiwan and Asia. The university and its surrounding provides our students good learning environment in both education and culture aspects, and potential opportunities to involve in research and cultural activities. The city is home to numerous engineering and cultural landmarks, including Taipei 101 that was the tallest building in the world until 2010, and the National Palace Museum which houses the best historic Chinese art in the world. Technical visits relevant to civil engineering will be arranged through their vast alumni network.
